
Advertise your show

Posted by morgan - 2007/07/13 04:33

Hey guys! So the event calendar is up and running but only has a few shows on it (pretty much just the people who advertised on the postboard in the last two days).

We decided than rather have some admin try to keep up with adding all the shows, inevitably forgetting someone, spelling a name wrong or posting the wrong flier image, it'd be better to let you guys add shows yourselves. So either go to the Home page or the Events Calendar and click Add Show. Fill in the details, you can even put images in the description section. It make take a day or so for new events to show up.

Let me know if you have any problems with it.

Seriously, add your shows!! I know there's more going on than this. :P .

If your show is already on the list but you want to add a decently large amount of stuff to it, just resubmit the event. That will work best. If its a small change just say something about it on the postboard or via email.

Also if you have pictures of shows, send them to Liz. We're hoping to add a more publicly accessible gallery, and something with some more glitz to it, but for now thats the option. Just ask Keith, she will put images up you send.

shows that aren't listed on the website that are playing at the NS:

TUESDAYS 8pm
ViLaughAgra
(not sure how it's spelled)

FRIDAYS 8pm
A Question of Faith

SUNDAYS 9pm
Sunday Snack Time (Improv)

I believe Brett's sketch show starts NEXT Thursday. I believe it is called Who Flung Pooh

Monty Pythong starts Friday 8pm August 10 and runs 4 weeks.

Cool, I'll add em. But for the record, anybody can add events. Celeste posted updates to the stand-up workshop and Bick added the fornicators of comedy. Ask them, its pretty easy!

In fact, I'll add all of them but Monty Pythong. You can add that one. Groovy?
